Introducing you to CRIS

We have developed a computer system that allows us to carry out research using information from the Trust's clinical records.

We call this system CRIS: the Clinical Record Interactive Search system.

CRIS is safe and secure. It does not reveal your personal details to Trust researchers.

We believe CRIS can make a real and positive difference to future treatments and care.

To find out more talk to your care worker, pick up a CRIS information flyer or visit: www.slam.nhs.uk/research/cris
